EDGAR SNOWDEN.
PRINCE STREET BUILDING, PRINCE STREET.

OPEN WINDOWS AT NIGHT.—Very much has been written on this subject, and written wisely; the facts are that whoever sleeps under a cool sky when the mercury is at zero is an invalid.

The colder a sleeping apartment is the more healthy does it become, because cold condenses carbonic acid formed by the breathing of the sleeper. It settles near the floor and is re-breathed, and if in a very condensed form it will do more harm. Hence, we must be governed by circumstances; the first thing is, you must be comfortably warm during sleep, otherwise you are not refreshed, and inflammation of the lungs may be engendered, and life destroyed within a few days.

An open door and an open fireplace are sufficient for ordinary purposes in cold weather. When outer windows are opened it is well to have them down at the top two or three inches, and up at the bottom for the same space.

In miasmatic localities—and these are along watercourses, beside mudpools, marshes, bays, river bottoms, flat lands and the like—it is most important, from the first of August until severe frosts have been noticed to sleep with all external doors and windows closed, because the cool air of sunset causes the condensation of the poisonous emanations which were caused by the heat of the noonday sun to rise far above the earth. This condensation makes the air "heavy," it is slow, made heavy by the greater condensation of the emanations by cold; and resting on the surface of the earth in their more concentrated and malignant form, they are breathed into the lungs, and swallowed into the stomach, corrupting and poisoning the blood with great rapidity.

By daylight these condensations are made so compact by the contracted coolness of the night, that they are too near the surface of the earth to be breathed into the system; but as the sun begins to ascend, these heavy condensations, miasmas, begin to rise again to the height of several feet above the ground, and are freely taken into the system by every breath and swallow; hence the hours of sunrise and sunset are the most unwholesome of all the hours of twenty-four in the localities named; and noontide, where the sun is hottest, is the most healthy portion of the day because the miasm is so much rarefied that it ascends rapidly to the upper regions.

The general lessons are, 1st. Avoid exposure to the outdoor air in miasmatic localities for the hours including sunrise and sunset. 2d. Have a blazing fire on the hearth of the family room at those hours, to rarely and send the miasm upwards. 3d. Take breakfast before going out of doors in the morning, and take tea before sundown; then being out after night is not injurious.—Hall's Journal of Health.

AN ERRATIC INDIVIDUAL.—Adam Bepler keeps a tavern in Alleghany, N. York. One gloomy evening a man presented himself about bed time, and asked to stay all night.

"Certainly," said Adam, eyeing the seedy-looking stranger. "If you take breakfast, it will be your own dollar."

"But I have no money," said the man. "I am dead broke, but if you only trust me—"

"Ah," said Mr. Bepler, "I don't like that kind of customer. I could fill my house every night with that kind, but that kind won't help me out."

"Well," said the stranger, "have you got any rats here?"

"Yes," said Adam, "you'd better believe we have. Why the place is alive with 'em."

"Well," rejoined the man, "I'll tell you what to do. If you let me have lodging and breakfast, I'll kill all the rats to-morrow."

"Done," said Bepler, who had long been desperately annoyed by the number of old Norways that had infested his premises.

So the stranger, a gaunt, sallow, melancholy-looking man, was shown to his bed, and no doubt had a good sleep.

After breakfast the next morning, Mr. Bepler took occasion, in a very gentle manner, to remind his guest of the contract made the previous night.

"What, kill rats? Certainly," said the melancholy stranger, "where are they the thick?"

"They are pretty thick in the barn yard," answered Adam.

"Well, let's go there," answered the stranger. "But stop! Have you got a piece of hoop iron?"

A piece about fifteen feet long was given him and he examined it carefully from one end to the other. Expressing himself entirely satisfied, finally, with its length and strength, he proceeded to the barn, accompanied by Mr. Bepler and quite a number of idlers who were anxious to see in what manner the great rat-killer was going to work. Arriving there, the stranger looked around a little, and then placed his back firmly against the barn-door, and raised his weapon.

"Now," said he to Adam, "I'm ready, fetch on your rats."

NINE MILLIONS OF "MEDICINES."—A correspondent of the London Spiritualist asserts with confidence, (but without mentioning his data), "that about one-third of the population of Great Britain is susceptible to spirit influence, or, in other words, nine millions of more or less power." Whereby know whether these statistics are likely to afford gratification, for the privilege of mediumship is apt to involve some counterbalancing disadvantages. We read, for instance, of a Mrs. Guppy, who, without warning or preparation, "came plump down upon the centre of a table round which eleven persons were sitting shoulder to shoulder" in a room the doors of which were locked. It is not mentioned that the medium suffered through this unceremonious, not to say indecorous, treatment; but we hear from another correspondent of this mysterious piece of eld, and Steele Charles II. went to see it. When touched with a bar of iron, it emitted loud groans; and its sensitiveness seems to have been contagious, for, after its fame had been established, rival boards were advertised in different parts of London, and the public largely profited by the credulity of the public.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

SIMMONS' LIVER
The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with laxity. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the Liver with

DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

THE FOLLOWING WILL BE READ WITH INTEREST.
Under date of April 26th, 1871, Dr. HENRY J. ROGERS, 68 Sharp street, Baltimore, an eminent physician, writes regarding

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY
"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from a severe fever peculiar to the country. On my recovery, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without all at once feeling the remainder. To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various preparations, both in Europe and in this country; but they all had one great defect—they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, I can get the desired shade—the natural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of."

Yours truly,
HENRY J. ROGERS.

Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations advertised as Renewers, Restoratives, &c., are but compounds of Sugar of Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surprise that the demand for NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the poisonous articles claim to do, should have increased so rapidly. It restores the color and growth of the hair positively in a few days; strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the most economical preparation in use. Put up in large bottles, at one dollar.

SEWING MACHINES.

HOWE'S
IMPROVED
Lock-Stitch Sewing Machines

Are world-renowned for durability and simplicity of machinery, the perfection of the tensions, and the unparalleled wide range of work they are capable of performing without change or readjustment.

At the great "Exposition Universelle" in Paris, in 1867, they were awarded the highest prize—a massive Gold Medal—over 82 competitors, and the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred on Elias Howe as the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

The growing appreciation of their characteristic excellence by the intelligent people of this country was clearly shown by the unprecedented sales of the Howe Sewing Machine during the past year, being far in excess of those of any other one patent.

More than 1000 of these excellent machines are in daily use in the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and of this very large number a single case of dissatisfaction cannot be found.

They make the "Howe," or "Lock-Stitch," which has the same beautiful appearance on either side of the fabric sewed, and they are the only machines that make this beautiful stitch to perfection.

A branch office has been recently established at No. 105, King street. If you are prejudiced in favor of any particular machine, at least examine the Howe before you purchase. Remember that Mr. Howe was the original inventor of the Sewing Machine, and gave twenty years of his life to perfecting this machine.

Every Howe Machine is warranted for ten years' constant use by the company, and is kept always in perfect order by the local agency. Purchasers are thoroughly instructed at their residences, by competent instructors, in every variety of plain and ornamental sewing.

An efficient lady operator will be in constant attendance at the office, and machine stitching of every description will be neatly and promptly executed.
